Below is a transcript of today's video post:

Well, hello faithful Enews readers. Its Lance Finley coming to you live from the Finley living room here in Findlay, Ohio. That's a lot of Findlays and we have a lot of Finleys here! I am blessed today that you don't have to just look at my face as I talk, but I have my lovely wife Brenda, and we have our three kids; our youngest son Connor, our oldest son Carter, and our daughter Molly. We just thought we would come to you together – something different from our normal fare for Enews.

As we look forward to the Christmas weekend, we know this will be a busy weekend with lots of Christmas Eve services, family gatherings, and gifts and all kinds of things, celebration. I hope, I know you will as well as our family, think about the idea of God sending his son, Jesus, into the world and the great lengths he went to to demonstrate his great love for us. And as he sent Jesus into the world, he sends us into the world. This Christmas season, as we celebrate the incarnation of Jesus coming into the world let's be reminded that he sends us into the world in the same way. That we have a world that faces difficult challenges, sometimes horrendous times or difficult times and he sends us as his people to proclaim hope, and to proclaim his son Jesus to the whole world that they might know him. And so, I hope you are encouraged by that this season and take that to heart. And may all of us strive to live and God's sent people into the world.

So from our family to yours, we want to wish you, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!"
